Such is the tenor of a message received by the New York police from Oresto Sciallantano, the alleged murderer of Officers Heaney and Pearl, for whom the detectives are making a house to house search. Little progress is being made, as the Italian oppulation fears to give information, lest they incur the enmity and later the revenge of the gunmen.

ALFONSO IS BEING CLOSELY GUARDED

Precautions Against Any Attempt Upon Life of Spanish King.

THREE DAYS IN PARIS.

Arrives in French Capital Today Apparently Unmindful of Discovery of Plot to Assassinate Him.

Paris, May 7.—Undeterred by the discovery of an eallged anarchist plot to assassinate him, King Alfonso XIII of Spain, arrived here today for a state visit of three days with President Poincaire of France.

It is the first time that the Spanish ruler has officially visited Paris since 1905, when he was the guest of President Loubet, on which occasion anarchists hurled a bomb at him that missed the king, but injured twenty-eight persons in the crowd watching his carriage.

In view of the recent attempts on King Alfonso's life in Madrid, and the Montpelier discovery of two days ago, that resulted in the arrest of six men at Barcelona and Bordeaux, the police and secret service men are taking extraordinary precautions to guard the king during his stay.

While in Paris King Alfonso and President Poincaire will talk over a proposed commercial and industrial entente letwen France and Spain, which it is said, will in a way be like the triple entente now binding France with Great Britain and Russia.

A military review, a state dinner at the president's palace, and a night at the opera, are among the entertainments planned for the king.

Mrs. Straley, frightened at the idea of her hsuband being whipped, pleaded with the Justice, and told him she would take the lashes herself rather that let him be whipped. She said she was partly responsible for her husband's anger, as she slapped him on the face before he struck her. The man seen with her in Hagerstown, she said, was her father.

The police say that through a middle man, some of the hotels have been buying back their own property, stolen and disposed of through the alleged cleaning house raided today.

PLANS FOR REBUILDING.

Estimated Loss May be Reduced—Expression of Thanks to Firemen And Others.

Plans for the reconstruction of the burned portions of the Mt. Vernon Stables, destroyed in yesterday's morning's fire are already well underway. Although the estimated loss on the building, as given yesterday was $25,000 with $10,000 additional loss on contents, it is expected this figure will prove greater than the actual loss sustained, which will be ascertained tomorrow when the fire insurance adjusters will begin their work. As the fire did not penetrate below the third floor, all lower floors being of cement construction, there is no interruption to business.

R. G. Pettit, president of the Mt. TESTING OF LAND LAW IS DELAYED

No Action to be Taken at This Time on Anti-Alien Bill.

RESOLUTION MAY DIE.

Judiciary Committee Not Yet Created—Mr. Britten Wants Government to Handle Dispute.

Washington, May 7.—There will be no immediate action in the House on the resolution introduced by Congressman Britten, who demands the test of the California anti-alien land law. The resolution, which seeks to have the Department of State and the Department of Justice take steps in court to annul the California act, was referred today to the House Judiciary Committee.

The Judiciary Committee of the new Congress has not yet been created, and there is little prospect that the Britten resolution will emerge from the pigeonholes after the committee is named. Prospective members of the committee expressed the private opinion today that the administration should continue to handle the Japanese California situation. and that it is not incumbent upon the legislative branch of the government to instruct a co-ordinate branch in a case if this kind.

Mr. Britten holds that the California law prohibiting aliens who are not citizens from owning land is in violation of a treaty between this country and Japan. A treaty, he says, "is the supreme law of the land," and has been so construed by the courts.

The Britten resolution, which probably will die in committee, directs the Department of State and Justice "to take such steps as are necessary toward a judicial test of the California law with a view to its annulment."

NEGRO MOONSHINERS.

Hunt Murderous Outlaws in Several Counties.

Clintwood, Va., May 7.—Posses with bloodhounds are searching throughout Dickenson and Buchanan counties, Va., for the negro moonshiners of Pike county, Ky., who Sunday shot and killed two United States marshals and probably fatally wounded another man.

The negro moonshiners have been operating on the Virginia-Kentucky border and experienced little trouble in escaping into this state. Lucy Hall, a 14-year-old negro girl, is alleged to be the cause of the raid, which led to the shooting affray.

The girl is a daughter of "Dan" Hall, alleged leader of the gang of negro moonshiners and outlaws. She is alleged to have engaged in a quarrel with the gang which caused her report their whereabouts to the government officers. She led the officers to the scene, where the shooting occurred.

Sheriff Hiram Couley, of Pike county with a posse guided by the Hall girl, has invaded Dickenson county. It is reported that the negro outlaws are well-armed and are hiding in the mountain wilds.

BOMB FOUND IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

Infernal Machines Planted in Edifice and Newspaper Offices.

BUILDINGS BURNED.

Discovery of Alleged Suffragette Explosive Prevents Destruction of Organ and Altar.

London, May 7. — A businesslike bomb with clockwork and battery attachment, which was found under the bishop's throne in St. Paul's Cathedral today by a verger, is believed by the home office to be the work of suffragettes, a part of their threatened nation-wide campaign of revenge for the defeat of the Dickinson bill, which the House of Commons last night turned down by 266 to 219.

Another bomb was found by the police in Bouverie street, opposite the building of the Evening Star, and close by Temple Chambers,

The cricket pavillion in Bishop's Park, Fulham, was entirely consumed by fire and suffragette literature scattered in Prague avenue gave the police clue to the incendiaries.

Two bungalows at Bex Hill and a house in Finchley Road, all unoccupied, were burned down during the night.

The cathedral verger who found the infernal machine plunged it into a bucket of cold water, and then turned it over to the policemen, who took it to the home office for examination by Mr. McKenna's explosive experts.

The bomb could not have exploded at any time during the day without endangering human life. St. Paul's is open to worshippers from early morning to late afternoon and there always are a dozen or more persons near the altar, sometimes many times that number.

The women threatened to kill every prize-winnig dog and race horse in England. This threat was contained in a letter received by Miss Violet Cross owner of Choo-Tai, the $10,000 prizewinning Pekinese which was poisoned by militants. The letter said:

"Madame: We are very sorry your pretty dog was sacrificed, but our rules must be inexorably enforced and we are resolved to stop at nothing now. Every prize-winnig dog or race horse will be maimed or killed when the chance presents itself until we get votes."

Never before in its history has Scotland Yard been so active. Special squads to deal with the suffragettes are being formed to patrol the city. A constant guard will be around Westminster Abbey for the women who are threatening to blow up that magnificent edifice.

STRANGE INSECT PLAGUE.

Small Winged Specimens of Animated Nature Pest of Man and Beast

During the past few days thousands of small winged insects, suggestive of overgrown gnats, have made their appearance in Alexandria, causing more annoyance than the ordinary house fly. These pests are, however, by no means confined to Alexandria, as they have made their appearance in huge swarms in Washington and other places.

As is generally the case, the plague is blamed by some on women, and they call them "suffragettes bugs," suggesting that plagues similar to those which tortured Pharoah and the Egpytian nation in by-gone years are about to come upon the English-speaking race for frowning upon the daughters of Eve in their propaganda for equal rights before the law.

Others, however, are convinced that the blame should be laid at the door of fly-swaters, who are waging an unrelenting crusade against this household insect. They suggest that the little buzzers are put in the world by nature for the purpose of keeping the air pure in summer time. According to some naturalists every square inch of air is inhabited by thousands of insects so tiny that even the most powerful microscope fails to make them visible.

The fly hovers about until it gets many of such insects upon its body when it alights and devours them, thus minimizing the danger of the insects being breathed into the system by human beings.

Advocates of the above theory are apprehensive lest by destroying flies the human race may become the victims of more annoying insects than flies, as they are inclined to believe that the ranks of flies becoming decimated, the minute insects upon which they feed are allowed to develop into the new pests alluded to above.

LAW FOR EXCURSION BOATS

Regulations Will Be Rigidly Enforced By Government Officials

As has been stated in the Gazette, new laws are now in vogue concerning excursion steamers, and only the number of passengers allowed the respective boats will be permitted to go aboard. Heretofore like the street car custom, men, women and children were often packed in like cord wood, redering conditions uncomfortable and dangerous.

Supervising Inspector General of Steam Vessels Geo. Uhler announces that, as the summer excursion season is at hand, when large number of passengers are to be carried, especially on Saturdays and Sundays, the number of passengers going on board vessels must be accurately counted, in order that the steamer allowance will not be exceeded. Upon steamers where the number of passengers on special occasions may be unusually large the count will be taken simultaneously by two officers of the government detailed for duty by the Customs Service and the Steamboat Inspection Service, or by either that there may be no doubt as to the accuracy of this count, if it is contested by any party in interest. To insure the accuracy of this count, the checking must be done by two officers at the same point; that is to say, over the same gangway, and in such cases only gangway must be used for loading passengers. Where it may become necessary to verify a count, inspectors may require that passengers shall be disembarked or landed over one gangway. The attention of all concerned is called to the fact that every person on board, other than the crew, whether adult or child in arms, shall be considered as a passenger in the court.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

INTERESTING STORY.

Reward Awarded Old Man For His Honesty.

Bristol, Va., May 7.—An interesting story of the character of James Wilson, a mountaineer, who died at his home in the "White Top" region, east of Bristol, a few days ago, is told by the Rev. H. W. Bellamy, a Baptist minister, who was invited to conduct the funeral. The minister, by inquiring into the life and character of the man, who died at the age of 78 years, was told of one instance which deeply impressed him with the honesty of Wilson.

Wilson was one of the pioneers of the mountain section. Like many others, he built a cabin on the Douglas estate, built a fence around it and "cleared a patch." in the mountain wilderness.

Many years later when the owners of the estate decided to establish their lines they encountered no one of trouble with the "squatters," who set up claims to the land upon peaceable possession for a long term of years.

One day Douglas Robinson, a brother-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, and a friend, both strangers to Wilson, rode up to his house, and after inquiring his name, asked if he owned the land he had cleared and fenced. His answer was, "No, I do not. I have always heard that it belonged to some people named Douglas, in New York, and if they ever come here and claif it they can have it. I only came here with my family and took possession because the land was not in use and because I saw many others doing the same thing."

Mr. Robinson, surprised and pleased, dismounted and wrote out a simple deed to the fifty acres under fence and made Wilson a present of it. He afterwards employed Wilson to aid the corps of surveyors in locating the lines of the immense boundary belonging to the Douglas heirs, and for many months Wilson received a substantial salary for his services in this connection.

DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED.

Young Son of Widow Seriously Wounded by Playmate.

Manassas, Va., May 7.—By the careles shandling of a pistol supposed not to be loaded, Marion Simpson, the 16-year-old son of Widow Simpson, near Manassas, lies in a critical condition tonight with a bullet lodged under his nose, which the surgeons have not yet been able to extract.

The shot was fired accidentally by Simpson's playmate, Winfield Athey, son of W .S. Athey.

The boys were teasing each other, when Athey picked up a revolver and, feeling quite sure that no harm could result, aimed the weapon at Simpson's face and pulled the trigger.

Winchester, Va.—Fire of incendiary origin Tuesday morning destroyed a large barn on the farm of Charles Tanquary. Three horses and 11 hogs reished. The loss is $4000 with $1,000 insurance.

CONTEST FOR SPEAKERSHIP.

Anti-Liquor Men Will Force The Fight.

Lynchburg, Va., May 7.—The Advance prints the following:

That it is the intention of the anti-liquor folks to force the fighting at the coming session of the Legislature and to stand right up and demand its right, there is not the least question.

One of the most astute of the party leaders declared that such was his information and belief, and he is a man who is used to the wishes of the politicians, views things calmly and rarely ever overguesses. He says that while there is not the least hope for the enactment of a bill to have a vote on liquor in the state, the people are determined to test the strength of the liquor people in the election of members of the House of Delegates this fall. When this is done it is the avowed intention of the liquor folks to proceed to elect Judge Martin Williams, of Giles, to the speakership. Judge Williams is an avowed and declared prohibitionist. He has been in the House for years, and for the last two terms he has been the recognized leader of the dominant party on the floor of the House.

His choice as Speaker of the House would mean so much to him so far as the honor is concerned, but there are the committees to be named and the shaping of legislation by the committees. There is where the dry element would have an inning, and would insist on the enactment of such laws as would give them a fair show in the administration of public affairs. Incidentally, it would place the House in the position of dictating what laws should be passed and would get it the power to prevent the repetition of a bargain with wet Senators and Republicans to prevent a redistricting of the State by the Democrats on condition that the Republican Senators vote against the law providing for the vote on the sale of liquor througnout the State. That charge was made in the last session, and no attempt was ever made to refute it. One Republican voted with the anti-liquor folks, all others voted wet. And the Senatorial district lines were not changed, though the House was willing to redistrict the State and so voted, the Senate refusing.

TO GET HERO MEDAL.

Awaiting an Award For Saving Life of Man.

Danville, Va., May 7.—Charles G. Davis, a North Carolinian by birth, but for the past seven months a resident of this city, is daily awaiting a silver medal and $2,000 from the Carnegie Commission, which will be given him for educational purpose, for savng the life of a man named Garman in Charlotte, N. C., two years ago. Davis, who is a youth of 19 years, was engaged with Garman digging a well on the ground of a private residence in the North Carolina city. They were using dynamite to deepen the well and had just blasted the charge when Garman entered the buckets and descended in order to clear out the debris caused by the explosion. About ten feet from the bottom Garman was overcome by poisonous gases and Davis, at the mouth of the well, realizing that something was amiss, slid down the rope, secured the unconscious form of his friend to the bucet and again climbed up towards the top of the well. Half way up his strength gave out and he was pulled up by others and found to be unconscious. Both men, after receiving medical treatment, revived. Nothing was thought of the incident for nearly a year, when eye-witnesses to the courageous act persuaded Davis' father to communicate with the Carnegie Commission.

ARLINGTON MONUMENT.

Handsome Memorial Expected to be Unveiled Next Week.

Richmond, Va., May 7.—Sir Moses Ezekiel, the sculptor, who has for many months been at work on the monument to be placed in Arlington in honor of the Confederate dead buried there, writes that he has nearly completed the handsome memorial, which will be one of the finest ever seen in a national cemetery.

The chief figure of the monument will be a beautiful woman representing the South, while there will be fifteen other figures. It is expected that the monument will be ready for unveiling some time in June or July.

Mrs. Thomas P. Bocock, the honored widow of the revered speaker of the Confederate House of Reresentatives, has issued the following letter of the resident of the State chapters, United Daughters of the Confederacy:

"May I urge you all to renewed effort this year for the Arlington memorial. May I aske yuo to begin anew your labor of love for this shrine of the Confederacy? It is with the greatest pleasure in urging you to further work, that I thank you for what has been done in the cause.

"Virginia is the banner state of the South in its support of Arlington memorials. You have done more than the daughters of any other state. You can do still more. Or course, it will take strenuous continued work concentrated thought and ready action, but these, I know, you are willing to give in behalf of so noble a work.

"Let Virginia, the battleground of the war, prove to the Southland and to the world that she is determined to honor her noble sons who gave their lives in defense of their rights.

"May I beg that each chapter president will determine to make this the fourth year of effort, by far the most successful of all. Map out your plans in wisdom, and execute them in love.

"The State committee which I represent, will, I am sure, support and encourage your every effort. Remember that you are working for the honor of Virginia, the monument we hope to unveil late in June or early in July. It will be a grand reminder for future generations."

ELOPING MINISTER ARRESTED

Was Betrayed by the Woman he Ran Away With.

Bristol-Va., Tenn., May 7.—Betrayed by the woman with whom he eloped, Rev. Joe Owens, a Baptist minister, of Washington County, Va., is under arrest at Williamson, W. Va., to which place he fled with her.

Owens ran away with the wife of Rev. J. W. Blankenship and carried with him about $200 in funds for a proposed new church.

Mrs. Blankenship, now craving forgiveness of her husband and children, asserts that she was the victim of a hypnotic spell and that she was enslaved by the charm which Owens exercised over her.

Blankenship offered a reward for the arrest of Owens, who will be brought back to Virginia.

HONORING MEMORY OF PROFESSOR LANGLEY.

Unfortunately, the pioneers in all discoveries either die in poverty or amid the jeers of their contemporaries. The first man who conceived a railway for transportation purposes was regarded as a crank by the people of his day, and was compelled to lay rails in the night time in order to escape being rotten-egged by those who had, as they say, imagined,figured out the imposibility of this scheme.

Scientific men about one hundred years ago wrote articles for newspapers showing, according to their deductions, the impossibility of running a vessel across the Atlantic ocean by steam, and when Cyrus W. Field conceived the idea of transmitting messages across the Atlantic ocean he was regarded as a fit subject for the lunatic asylum by many.

Had a man conceived moving pictures or telephones two or three hundred years ago and made any sort of a demonstration to prove his theories he would have been hanged for witchcraft.

The discoverers of printing were forced for a time to work under ground or in cellars, as people of that day believed his satanic majesty had something to do with the art preservative of arts. Finally the craft were arrested and made to divulge their secret.

Seventeen years ago yesterday the first heavier-than air flying machine took wings from a secluded spot on the Potomac, a short distance south of this city and after a short flight fell to destruction, while its inventor, the late Professor Samuel P. Langley, looked on and the world laughed. Not long afterward he died from a broken heart, many of his friends say, from the ridicule heaped upon him because he thought he could invent a "flying machine."

But yesterday at the Smithsonian Institution a group of scientists whose names are known to the world, gathered to unveil a tablet to his memory as the father of advanced aviation, and to present medals to Glenn H. Curtis and Gustave Eiffel, who have carried on the work Langley left off, Curtis was present, but Ambassador Juserand received the medal for Eiffel. Later, at the Army War College, an exhibition of flying boats was given. Army and Navy officers, carrying on the development of aviation, were present, and many of the notables of Washington life came to pay the homage to the memory of Langley.

The first over-country or long distance flight in an airship was made a few years ago from Fort Myer to Shuter's Hill on the confines of Alexandria. Many people in Alexandria up to that time had been loud in their expressions of disbelief in the theory of aerial navigation.

There is something curious in the history of discoveries. The originators of most of the important inventions which have brought about such a remarkable transition in the twentieth century reaped no benefit of their genius, while another generation gathered the golden harvest.

ATTEMPT TO DEMOLISH ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

While thousands of people throughout the English-speaking world can see no good reason why women should not be allowed to vote, the many crimes attributed to the champions of suffrage in England are not doing the cause any good. While many people do not credit all the charges urged against militants, being inclined to believe some of the high-handed crimes reported in the English capital have been the work of the masculine gender and that suffragette literature is scattered at the scenes in order to place the blame upon militants, they at the same time are not blind to the fact that the women are guilty of some overt acts.

The attacks on railway stations postoffices and newspaper sanctums are all wrong, and form serious offenses against the peace and dignity of a country, and according to dispatches received today from London, the venerable St. Paul's Cathedral, in which are the sarcophagi of Wellington and Nelson, has been made a target. An infernal machine was found in that edifice this morning. Had it not been discovered and placed in a bucket of water an explosion would surely have followed and the altar and organ would have been demolished and probably a dozen or more people would have been killed, some of whom would doubtless have been musing at the last resting places of th ehero of Trafalgar and the Iron Duke who succeeded in bringing Napoleon's career to an end.

St. Paul's Cathedral is the hub of London. All distances are computed from that edifice, and strangers invariably enter its precincts and fall into reveries over its history as well as the fiction connected with it.

Macaulay's well known suggestion concerning the New Zealander sitting upon a broken span of London Bridge gazing upon the ruins of St. Paul's may occur in the dim future, but it is hoped that that massive structure, work of Sir Christopher Wrenn, and the pride of the English-speaking world, it not to be made a mass of ruins by Brittania's daughters.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

Virginia Notes During Days of Civil Conflict.

The Baltimore Sun publishes the following clippings from its issue of May 7, 1863.

The Richmond papers of the 5th claim victories for the rebels on Saturday and Sunday last. The rebel dispatches say that on Saturday Lee drove Hooker out of the Little Wilderness ac kto Chancellorsville to a position in that immediate vicinity. As the Union accounts of Saturday's engagement explain, the falling back was on the part of General Sigel's late (now Howard's corps, which was only saved from annihilation by Hooker's original division, which checked the enemy's pursuit.

So far as Sunday's change of position is concerned, it was simply a concentration of Hooker's force in a far better position. It was effected with small loss to us when compared to the loss sustained by the rebels in assailing us during the movement.

Steneman's expedition proved a gerat success. The Richmond papers say that his forces played havoc with their railroad at Hanover Junction and other points, destroying locomotives an da large amount of other valuable property an dall the railroad bridges to within five miles of Richmond.

In the Richmond papers mentioned above is a dispatch from General Lee to Jeff Davis saying that (the rebel) General Paxton is killed, Stonewall Jackson severely wounded and Generals Heth and A. P. Hill aslo badly wounded.

The men under Mosby and White brought to Washington are many of them said to be marked men. Among the group could be observed some splendid specimens of humanity, and prominent among them was a private in Mosby's command by the name of Taliaferro, a member of one of the F. F. V.'s, his ancestors having settled in this country 200 years ago and emigated originally from Italy. He has a plantation of 1,800 acres in Arkansas upon which he employs 100 slaves, also his own property. His physique is magnificent in its graceful proportions, his height being 6 feet 2 inches, and he is possessed of a frank, open countenance and ingenuous manner. Mr. Hammond, a Methodist preacher, was also a prisoner. He is a violent secessionist of the uncompromising order.

SMILES.

By The Second Ward Bard.

THE CANDIDATES.

Candidates are in the field, and they want your vote,
To the Legislature they would go,
Each, upon his shoulders, would the state's great burdens tote,
And pass laws to ease the people's woe.

In Richmond town they'll gather early in the coming year,
And their troubles promptly will begin,
They will then be called upon by voters far and near,
The way they will be pestered is a sin.

Eager tax revisionists and school and road fiends, too,
Will be waiting for them without fail,
Wets and drys with arguments will make the air quite blue,
Suffragists will rant and roar and wail.

Will they earn their money? Well you just bet your life,
They've never known its like since they were born,
And each will probably gladly quit that legislative strife,
And work at sellin goods or plowing corn.

There's nothing that will so quickly take the romance out of a young man's evening as discovering that his girl has enjoyed a few spring onions for dinner.

The guy who can pass that score board between five and six o'clock in the afternoon without stopping to look it over ought to seek the advice of a physician.

It is easy enough to be happy and gay
When you breathe the fresh air of the morn,
But the man who will laugh
Is good grain, and not chaff,
When you step down right hard on his corn.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

"TO RESCUE EACH PRISONER."

California Refuses to be Warned Against Bunco Game.

New York, May 7.—The old Spanish story of the rich prisoner languishing in prison, whose beautiful daughter is destitute, but could be saved by an American with money, who would incidentally make a huge fortune out of saving her, cropped up again today.

John T. Booth, who says he owns a fruit ranch near Los Angeles, this morning dashed on the North German Lloyd pier, greatly excited, inquiring on every hand where he could get a ticket.

"What do you want to go to Madrid for?" asked Sergeant Weinhall, laughing. "Are you looking for the beautiful daughter of the Spanish prisoner?"

"How do you know about this?" said Booth, suspiciously.

The sergeant explained that the story was old; that it was a bunco game of very rough sort; that upon Booth's arrival in Madrid he would have every cent taken from him by a man impersonating a prison guard who had to be bribed, and that he would then be killed or nearly killed, and that he would never see his money again.

But Booth would not be dissuaded. He shipped in the second cabin of the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm.

The detective finally cajoled Booth into showing him his letter from the old Spanish prisoner.

The sergeant pointed out that the letter as well as all the rest that Booth had received from "Rafael Cervantes" were written from Madrid in English, but still the westerner was obdurate and insisted on making the trip. He has his doubts about the truth of the story now, but he says he will go and see, and he adds that the Spaniards will get no more of his money—for he has already sent $100 to be used in bribing jailors.

Just before sailing Booth sent the following mysterious calbe:

"Rafael Vervantes, Madrid, Spain, Negra Vavallera. Booth."

Booth would only say that this was a secret code message, but it was pointed out that a literal translation meant "dark horse." Mr. Booth said:

"If they try any funny business on me, I'll be the dark horse of their con' game, all right."

(Some of these letters have been received by Alexandrians recently.)

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS.

Presbyteries Opposed Amendment To Confession of Faith.

Louisville, Ky., May 7.—For the second time the proposed amendment to the Confession of Faith in connection with the much discussed "elect infant" clause has failed to receive the necessary three-fourths vote of the Presbyteries of the Southern Presbyterian Church. Although defeated on a former occasion the General Assembly again last year submitted to the Presbyteries the matter of changing the language of the Confession of Faith.

It has been charged that the language of the confession as it now reads, "elect infants dying in infancy," etc., can be construed as declaring that some infants are elect and some are not elect. Those who favor the change argue that the church believes all children dying in infancy are saved, and that the Confession of Faith should be revised so as to clearly convey this idea.

They had hoped to receive the necessary three-fourths vote and see the change formally passed when the assembly meets this month in Atlanta. Returns received up to last night by the Christian Observer in Louisville show that twenty-two presbyteries already have voted against the proposed change, thus insuring its defeat.

INFANT STRANGLED.

Falls Between Bed And Walls And Dies During Mother's Absence.

Richmond, May 7.—Jeannie, the four-months'-old baby girl of Huntsman Thornton, of the Deep Run Hounds, met death in a peculiar way in the home of its parents on the Country Club grounds a day or two ago.

Being calld downstairs to look after some household duties, the mother left the tot on a ed, placing a bolster on one side of the bed to prevent Jeannie from falling out. The bed stood a few inches from the wall, and on this side the mother did not place an obstruction to keep her little one from falling, never dreaming that the infant could slip between the bed and the wall. The mother remained downstairs only a short while. When she returned she found her baby cold in death. It had become wedged between the bed and wall and had strangled to death, being unable to utter a cry.

Girls in Rescue Homes.

One thousand girls a year come to the local Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home, and of the children born there 85 per cent. are illegitimate, according to the testimony of Miss Anna Hanstin, superintendent, before the legislative investigation committee Friday. "We have taken care of all kinds of girls—drug fiends, drunkards, and women of the underworld, but the last predominate," said Miss Hanstin. "The only promise we exact from applicants is that they will nurse their own babies and take them with them when they leave. We keep track of them where we can after they leave us, but many are foreigners who return to Europe."

Cold-Blooded Murder.

David Minzer, 18 years old, a resident of Brooklyn, was shot to death in the Williamsburg Plaza yesterday evening by two men, supposed to be members of a rival "gang". The murder was committeed in full view of hundreds of people who were hurrying home from work.

John Andrell, 20 years old, and Charles Friedman, 23, the former of Brooklyn and the latter a resident of Manhattan, were captured as they fled from the spot and are secused of firing the fatal shot. The prisoners said they were members of the "Bearcat Levy Gang," while the dead man belonged to the "Chincerella gang."

The deed is the most cold-blooded that has come to the attention of the police in years. Two men in the thickest part of the crowd were seen to draw revolvers, and, waving people who stood between them and their victims aside, take deliberate aim at Minzer. The latter turned and saw that he was doomed.

"You cowards!" he shrieked and then fell with a bullet in his heart.

Among the curious throng who pressed around the body after the tragedy, was Minzer's sister, who, until she came near, had not the slightest idea that the dead man was known to her in any way. She gasped his name and fell weeping over the body.

VIRGINIA BRIEFS.

Harrisonburg, Va.—Layton Hensley, a fugitive from justice for four years, was arrested here Monday. In 1909, Hensley and his two brothers were tried on a charge of robbing a barn. After their acquittal three of the witnesses were convicted of perjury and sent to prison, whereupon the Hensley boys disappeared. The grand jury indicted them and the case was slowly forgotten. Layton Hensley had come back to Rockingham to see his family. He was released on $5,000 bail.

Staunton, Va.—The Augusta county Democratic committee, which includes Staunton, held a second meeting Tuesday to consider the legislative primary and after two hours' discussion, decided by a vote of 6 to 5 to allow Democrats to vote in the primary as to whether they wish State-wide prohibition to be submitted to a vote.

Lancaster, Va.—The steam saw mill and much valuable lumber belonging to Wilbur Davis, of Kilmarnock were destroyed by fire Saturday. The fire was caused by a spark falling on the dry roof of the saw mill shed and the flames spread to the adjacent piles of lumber. The loss will exceed $3,000 on which there was no insurance.

Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only expensive, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are benefited, but few can safely return. Eckman's Alterative is effective for home treatment. For example:

231 S. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J.

"Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold, which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise sputum, and my physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alterative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now five years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alterative too highly. I have recommended it with excellent results."

(Signed) W. M. TATEM.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

How One Club Member Uses Her Hoosier Cabinet to Save Work

Work Seated

I thought my kitchen was convenient. I didn't want a Hoosier Cabinet. Now I wouldn't keep house with out one. First, look at this table. See! when I pull it out it locks. I can sit dow nat work! It is pure aluminum and much bigger than my old table.

Clean Sugar

Now look at this sugar bin. When I take out one scoopful another flows down—always ready. Just like this.

The sugar bin is made of rust proof metal and fills from the top here—just like the flour bin on the other side. The first sugar in is the first sugar out.

EVERYTHING HANDY

Here is the dish cupboard. You see, even while sitting I can reach up to the highest shelf. It is a whole lot different than walking back and forth for everything, isn't it?

EASILY CLEANED.

See how easily I can take it apart for cleaning. Simple, isn't it? There is no place for dirt to lodge anywhere. This is why the Hoosier keeps so fresh and clean all the time. I can roll it up to the window or on the porch if you like, and let sunshine into every corner. The Hoosier is the most sanitary cabinet made.

DUST PROOF.

Now see! Five seconds after my work is done, everything is shut up behind dust-proof doors. My kitchen looks so much neater and everything is so much more easily kept clean. The cabinet closed takes less room than a kitchen table. It is made of oak and guaranteed not to warp. Lasts a lifetime. I urge you to get one.

Crowds Enroll in Hoosier Club

15 Memberships Seized Eagerly 10 Left End Is Near

Surprising beyond our expectations is three day's record of the Hoosier enrollmen. Each member has her Hoosier safely installed in her home now—Each is saving miles of steps today and spending at least two hours less in the kitchen.

Which means, oh so few cabinets left for the housewives who are waiting until the last minute—the last minute that is soon due, at the rate memberships are going.

Will you delay while this grand opportunity is slipping away from you? Will you hesitate to be a Hoosier member right away? Ask yourself what you gain by risking delay. Tomorrow may be your
